BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

A whole lot of us were pleasantly surprised last Thursday when the levee rehab work crews actually reopened the U.S. 84 bridge before the 6 p.m. deadline they had given themselves. Our office actually had more than one phone call informing us that they really did it! Now that the huge flood gate is installed they are repaving the highway in that area. This of course has reduced traffic down to one lane for a few hours this week. All of it is a small price to pay for the added security the rehab provides.

Also motorists will notice that paving crews are beginning to repair damaged streets. At least those considered damaged by the dump trucks and other heavy equipment moving to and from the levee work. The contract calls for them to move right on out and repair all the damage between the dirt pits and the levee at least that related to their heavily loaded trucks.

The newspapers and airways are filled with demands that U.S. Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld resign. All this latest outcry follows the shocking pictures of prisoner abuse coming out of Iraq. Some of these opinions are from people who truly believe his resignation will make things right. Others of course are using it as an excuse to say again what they have said dozens of times before. . . fire anyone associated with George W. Bush. It is probably not surprising to our regular readers, but we disagree with both groups. Bush is our president and this country was made great by unity, not the constant backstabbing coming out of Washington in recent years. Also, if someone took Rumsfeld out in front of the White House at 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. for a public flooring every day for the next ten years, it wouldn't erase the shame we should feel that our American soldiers were not only guilty of this abuse, but thought it funny enough to film it. Does this mean we blindly support every action and word of Donald Rumsfeld? Nope, but then there have been times in the past 40 plus years when we disagreed with our dear wife, but thank God for the foresight to not even consider such foolish reactions in that department!

There is a Letter-To-The Editor in this week's paper supporting an honorable project in Iraq. Elba native Staff Sergeant Leonard W. Grantham Jr. is one of the good guys our government sent to Iraq. He is working with a group of other American soldiers to restore three public schools for the Iraqi children and they need donations of traditional school supplies not furnished by other sources. Hopefully the big hearts of Coffee County citizens will be evident in the massive outpouring of school supplies for these long deprived children. Please take the time to read the letter, note the many positive things being done for the Iraqi people, and decide if you are willing to do a small part to support one of these good things.

Your Alabama legislature hasn't completed work on budgeting for the next fiscal year and only has one legislative day left to get it done. They aren't returning to work for that final day next week and some lawmakers predict it can actually be done by the midnight deadline set out in the constitution. Of course it is possible, but past experience has shown us that these are times when horrible, abusive clauses get inserted into legislative bills. . . right at deadline when other lawmakers don't have time to read every revision of a bill one line at the time. Time restraints force them to take the word of people who are not quiet as honorable as the their mothers would like to believe they are. Please be careful Mr., Mrs. and/or Miss Legislator.

The American economy is improving, in spite of the disappointment of the anti George Bush politicians. We can argue all day over the increase in national net employment rates, etc. but it is hard to argue with the increasing sales tax figures. These increases have been evident in Coffee County for several months. Now other cities and counties of Alabama are reporting similar results. Regardless of how any one of us feels about individuals elected to run our government, we can be grateful that our fellow Americans are now finding real jobs. It gets them off welfare (however limited it may seem), gets them spending and causing more people to get jobs, etc. Let the good times roll might be a bit premature, but it is no longer an impossible dream!

New Brockton High School pre-game rituals

by Brett Parrish
and Channon Stuckey

Sammy Sosa tapping his fingers across his chest and lips before a game. The Duke Blue Devils slapping the court right before jump ball. Warren Sapp kicking the opposing teams pile one over during warm-ups.

It's called tradition, and we follow it here at New Brockton High.

The football defensive unit gets together before every game and goes over their assignments one more time to make sure everyone's on the same page and to receive motivation from Coach Smith.

The Lady Gamecock basketball team prays before every game, as well as gathering at half-court to chant a cheer no one understands, but it motivates them nonetheless.

The Boys basketball team lines up in the same order all season when preparing to leave the locker room, after saying The Lord's Prayer.

Brandon Owens followed his pre-game tradition in football and basketball, which is being the last one to get dressed.

The baseball team runs foul poles for the sheer enjoyment of being a part of Gamecock baseball.

The softball team also prays and has a different cheer they do, led by Mrs. Rountree.

That's tradition and that's how we do it at New Brockton.

We're History...Looking down Brockton Hill

by Andrew Hardiman

Ever been on vacation to a new place that you've never been before, and that city or area has a world-famous landmark that you're dying to see in person?

You finally get around that final curve in the interstate, and there it is, the Statue of Liberty. The Space Needle. The Golden Gate Bridge...whatever the landmark may be. At that final climactic point in your journey, the adrenaline is racing, and you are so excited when you finally lay your own eyes on that beautiful piece of earth or architecture, whatever it may be, that you begin to shiver and get chills. This picture bears an eerie resemblance to my life in the current state.

I've had a close eye on the "Seniors" ever since I've been at NBHS. Ahhh...the privetips, meetings, Awards, Se.

to see how they handle the exposure. When you finally get here, wherever here may be, you realize that this—the joy and privilege of being a senior, having that label attached to your name for one year—is what you've been working for all along.

I've watched in the past as dear friends have graduated and seen them struggle to cope with the fact that this seemingly endless part of their life is indeed finite. I wonder if I'll undergo the same stress for my graduation. Its now just eight weeks away. I can't stop the car! The brakes have been shot! I have to face it! I don't know if I can do it. The people here mean so much to me. Man, what the heck am I talking about? Let's cut the drama and do this thing!!!!

Can celebrity boycotting go too far?

We all have our opinions on the war. If a debate breaks out in history class, for example, the more vocal members of the group will probably make sure that their opinions are known. However, when an artist flagrantly expresses their opinion in a manner which causes the whole country, even the world, to hear it, it is bound to stir up some major controversy. Lately we have been bombarded with stories on the news about artists displaying their opinions in everything from their music to their clothes. However is all this campaigning worth ruining their careers over?

If you follow country music at all you certainly have heard a lot about the rivalry between the Dixie Chicks lead singer Natalie Maines and superstar Toby Keith. It all started when Natalie made a very debasing comment about President Bush while performing at a concert in France. This caused an uproar, and ended in former fans burning their Chicks CD's in the streets. This was around the time that Toby Keith came out with his unapologetically patriotic song, "The Angry American". Natalie made the statement that it was "ignorant", and then the fight was on. Her next stunt was to wear the infamous "FUTK" shirt while performing at an awards show. We can only guess what that stood for. The childish bickering continued, spurred by Natalie's immature attempts at bettering Toby. When will it end?

Toby has just continued to pour forth patriotic songs, becoming wildly popular. The Dixie Chicks said they were going somewhere where they would be supported by their genre, which they determined to be the rock family. What is their new album called, and where are they touring this year? They seemed to have disappeared along with their careers. My opinion is simple. When you are in the public eye and make a public comment that even your fans won't support, you've kicked yourself in the butt. I don't feel the least bit sorry for you. Think before you speak. It's that simple. As for the war, I think that as soon as an American soldier steps foot on foreign soil to fight for us, we should support them no matter the reason they're there. They didn't have a choice, and their family is suffering enough without so-called Americans saying that what their fighting for is wrong. I guess you can tell whose fan I am.

I am not big on celebrating holidays, but I will admit that every year on Mother's Day I do sit and think back in wonder on just how my Mom raised four boys and seemed to always keep order in a house filled with just about every problem imaginable. At one time she had four young boys at home with none old enough to be in school, while a few years later we were all in school and some nights we all had to be in different places at the same time. Many years later she survived her oldest son eloping, put everything back together after moving her family from Alabama to Ohio to Tennessee and back to Alabama, and more recently kept everything in place after we lost our Dad, and her husband of 51 years. Many of the holidays we celebrate are simply ways for stores to sell gifts and florists to sell flowers. However, Mother's Day is special because it honors someone special to us all.

FOR WHAT IT IS WORTH....

 The Elba Lady Tigers had won five straight games in post-season play and had evened their record at 14-14 heading into last weekend's sub-state final against Alabama Christian. But for the second straight year found the girls from Montgomery to be just a little too tough as the Lady Tigers fell 5-0 and 2-1 to close out the season one step short of the state tournament. Elba faced two of the state's top high school pitchers in the finals and managed only two bases runners in each game, while scoring one unearned run. The Lady Tigers never gave up and did manage to get on the scoreboard in game two, but sent only 22 batters to the plate in the opening game and 23 batters to the plate in game two. Of the 45 batters that walked to the batters box, 30 struck out and only one hit a ball that reached the outfield. Good pitching will shut down good hitting every time, and there was no doubt that Alabama Christian had very good pitching! Elba's sophomore sensation Stephanie Baxley pitched all thirteen innings for the Lady Tigers and allowed only two earned runs as the handcuffed two-time defending state champs on a total of eight hits and struck out ten batters. Baxley may have been tagged with the loss in both games, but the Elba sophomore never backed down and earned the respect of everyone in attendance. It was a day for the pitchers, and on Friday the girls from Montgomery were just a little bit better. The Lady Tigers owned a 2-7 record back early in the season after a home loss to Opp and appeared to be headed for a disastrous season, but the Elba girls regrouped and went 12-7 over the final weeks of the season to even their record at 14-14 heading into last week's sub-state finals, and included in those dozen wins were wins over Opp, Greenville, Pleasant Home and Kinston, all wins that avenged losses earlier in the season. The Lady Tigers never let the world on fire at the plate and often committed more than their share of errors, but they never quit no matter the opponent and often times found ways to win when their fans had all but given up. The 2004 Elba Lady Tigers may have a record of 14-16 next to their name in the history books, however, these girls fought as hard and played as hard as any to ever wear the black and gold and will be remembered as winners on the field. Good job girls, it was a fun ride!

 The officials at Elba High School had to get back to work last week in their search for a head football coach after their first choice backed out one day before he was to be named to the position. Supt. Danny Weeks and the school board worked long and hard to get a proven winner to revive the Tiger football program and everyone thought the search had ended in success, only to see everything come crashing down. I remember many years ago when Elba High School hired Brantley's Mike Sasser as its head coach, only to have Sasser resign after only two days on the job. The #2 choice declined after being offered the job, and after a few days of worrying about what to do Mack Wood was hired to take over the program. Coach Wood was selling sporting goods at the time and was the third choice, but became the winningest coach in Elba Tiger football history and led the Tigers to two state championships. I know that the coach Elba officials thought they had landed is one of the best in the state, but I am also convinced that the coach we get will be even better and will be the one that will turn things around. The best is yet to come, just be patient.

 Now that the school year is almost over it is time to look back and check out the year in sports. At Elba High the Tigers were competitive in all sports, but managed to post a winning record in only one varsity sport as the basketball team went 14-11. The football, girls basketball, volleyball, baseball and softball teams all failed to finish with a winning record, which made it a not so banner year in Tigertown. Over at New Brockton the Gamcocks struggled in all sports as no varsity teams managed to post a winning record, while up at Zion Chapel only the Rebel basketball team enjoyed a winning season. Kinston has success in basketball and almost made it to the region tournament, while the softball team also had a winning season and made a name for itself in the world of fast-pitch softball. Brantley made it to the third round of the playoffs in football and were also successful in basketball and baseball, making the Bulldogs the winningest program in the area.

 In closing.... I am not a sore loser and will admit the best team won in last week's softball sub-state series, but cannot agree with the Alabama High School Athletic Association in allowing private schools to compete with public schools in athletics. The public schools must educate students in a designated school zone and must make the best with which they have to choose from in athletics, while the private schools can draw from any area it wishes and can offer its students financial aid, based upon need. I have nothing against the private schools and know they offer their students a top notch education. However, let the private schools compete in Class B, and when sports reach the playoff round let them compete against each other. The way things are going they will probably meet in the finals, anyway!

Ryan Redmon gets first super stock win at SAS

By Mark Chisum

Ryan Redmon held off a fast closing Scotty Anderson to take home his first Super Stock Winner's trophy. Redmon started on the pole and took the lead going into turn one. Anderson started sixth but quickly moved up to third behind Ricky Whitehead. Whitehead had a good run going and was able to hold Anderson off for several laps. That worked to Redmon's advantage as he was able to pull out to a ten car length lead. Anderson finally worked his way under Whitehead on lap 16 and set out after Redmon.

With the laps running down, Anderson got closer and closer to Redmon's bumper. He caught him with two laps to go. With Redmon holding his line on the inside, Anderson was forced to look high. On the final lap, Anderson pulled even going into turn three, but Redmon got a better run off of turn four and beat Anderson to the line. Whitehead held on to third ahead of Greg Rabren and Ken Pettis.

Duane Bates led flag to flag to win the Vintage feature. Although Bates led ever lap, Kip Whitehead kept him on his toes. Whitehead looked for a way past Bates all race long but ended up settling for second. Jason Windham had a strong third place finish. Guy Scarborough and Donald DeShazo finished fourth and fifth.

In an exciting Street Stock Feature, Derek Deese took the lead halfway through the feature and went on to win. Harold Hurt took the lead at the drop of the green flag. Scott Morse grabbed the lead on the second lap with Deese moving into second two laps later. Deese rode behind searching for a way around Morse. On lap 11, Deese was on Morse's bumper. The next lap he set Morse up for the winning pass. Deese was able to jump to the inside of Morse in the middle of the turn and claim the inside position. Once on the inside, Deese had the advantage he needed. After a couple of side by side laps, Deese was able to clear Morse. Morse kept the pressure on Deese, but was a car length back at the checkers. Hurt finished third, Sam Smith fourth, and Charles Cotton fifth.

Jerry Hudson continued his winning ways in the Roadrunner Feature. Jason Monaghan led the first two laps before Jason Singletary took over. Hudson came from the 15th starting spot and took the lead on a lap eight restart. Hudson led the rest of the way to take the win. Jason Singletary finished second ahead of brother John. Danny Monaghan was fourth with Perry Boin fifth.

Jamie Ater took the Modified Feature win over Ken Gibson and Cameron Page. Mike Wolfe won the Mini Sportsman Feature over John Anderson. Alan Cherry, and Mike Cherry.

Free Fishing Day set for June 12 at Alabama lakes

"Free Fishing Day" for Alabama is scheduled for Saturday, June 12, 2004, during National Fishing Week. Approved by the Alabama Legislature, the law allows an annual free day of fishing when residents and non-residents may fish without a fishing license. The specific date is set each year by the Commissioner of the Department of Conservation and Natural Resources.

"Free Fishing Day is offered to introduce non-anglers to the sport of fishing and to remind former anglers of the fun they've been missing," said Stan Cook, Chief of Fisheries with the Wildlife and Freshwater Fisheries Division. "It's a good time to pass on the tradition of a family fun day of fishing to Alabama's youth."

There is an exemption of the usual fishing license requirement on that day. Some lakes may still require fees and permits, and owner's permission is required to fish private ponds.

Winning streak reaches five games

Lady Tigers sweep Clarke County 2-1, 2-1

The Elba Lady Tigers hosted the Clarke County Babes last Tuesday afternoon in a Class 3A sub-state semifinal series and rallied in their final at-bat in both games to claim wins by identical scores of 2-1, to advance to the sub-state finals.

Following are highlights of the two wins.

ELBA

CLARKE CO. 1

Elba's Stephanie Baxley tossed a two-hitter with 16 strikeouts and Whitney Lawford delivered the game-winning hit with two outs in the bottom of the seventh inning as the Lady Tigers edged past the Clarke County Babes 2-1, in game one of the best-of-three series.

Clarke County went down in order in the top of the first as Stephanie Baxley took command early, while the Lady Tigers came out swinging the bats and jumped out to a quick 1-0 lead on doubles by Lacy Carlile and Michelle Carpenter.

Elba carried the slim 1-0 lead into the top of the fourth, only to see Clarke County come to life at the plate and push across a run to pull even at 1-1. A one-out single gave the Babes life in the inning, while an error, a passed ball and an RBI single gave Clarke County its first run of the afternoon and tied the game at 1-1.

The Lady Tigers threatened in the bottom of the sixth when Kristen Barnes reached on an error and moved around to third base on a fielder's choice and an error. However, the next two Elba batters went down swinging, and heading into the seventh inning the score was still knotted at 1-1.

Clarke County went down in order in the top of the inning as Baxley fanned all three Babe batters, and it looked like the game would be headed into extra innings as the first two Lady Tigers failed to reach in the bottom of the frame. Ayoma Proctor reached on a walk with two outs, stole second and then raced home when Whitney

Lawford ripped a single up the middle to give the Lady Tigers the thrilling 2-1 win.

Lacy Carlile had 1 hit, and scored 1 run to lead Elba at the plate, while Michelle Carpenter and Whitney Lawford both added 1 hit and both collected 1 RBI. Stephanie Baxley pitched a two-hitter, walked one batter and struck out 16 to get the win on the mound.

The Elba Lady Tigers pushed across two unearned runs in the top of the seventh inning and then held on to edge Clarke County 2-1, to complete the two-game sweep of last week's sub-state semifinal series.

Elba came out ready to play and appeared ready to take command early and Lacy Carlile singled to open the game, stole second and moved to third when Greta Robinson reached on a fielder's choice. Robinson moved to second on a stolen base and the Lady Tigers loaded the bases when Michelle Carpenter reached on a walk. However, Carlile was tagged out at the plate when she tried to score on a passed ball and the next Elba batter went down swinging as the Lady Tigers failed to score.

Carlile singled with one out and stole second in the third inning to give Elba another scoring opportunity, but never got any closer to the plate as the scoreboard remained stuck at 0-0 after four minutes of play.

Clarke County had managed no hits and only one base runner through four innings, but a lead off walk pumped life into the Babes in the bottom of the fifth and led to the first run of the game. An error on a stolen base attempt allowed Clarke County to move a runner to second, while a two-out single gave Clarke County two base runners and the opportunity to grab the lead. The Babes did just that, as the next batter reached on an Elba error and the runner on third raced home to put Clarke

County on top 1-0. Elba trailed 1-0 heading into the top of the seventh, but once again discovered some Lady Tiger magic as Haleigh Duncan opened the inning with a single and moved to second on a single to Kristen Parker. Whitney Lawford hit a one-hopper to the pitcher with one out and the pitcher threw to third base to cut down the lead runner. However, the throw bounced out of the third baseman's glove and rolled down the fence into left field as both Duncan and Parker raced home to give the Lady Tigers a 2-1 lead!

Clarke County had life in the bottom of the inning after its lead off batter reached on a walk, but the Babe base runner was thrown out at second by Haleigh Duncan on a stolen base try, and Stephanie Baxley then retired the game's final two batters to preserve the wild 2-1 win.

Lacy Carlile and Jessica Dantford both had 2 hits to lead Elba at the plate, while Haleigh Duncan added 1 hit and scored 1 run. Stephanie Baxley pitched all seven innings to get the win and allowed one hit and two walks, while striking out 12 batters.

Elba Lady Tigers fall in sub-state softball finals

The Elba Lady Tigers hosted the two-time defending state champions from Alabama Christian Academy on Friday afternoon in the Class 3A sub-state finals and battled the heavily-favored Lady Eagles for all fourteen innings before seeing their title hopes vanish after surrendering back to losses 5-0 and 2-1.

The losses left the Lady Tigers with a final record of 14-16, while Alabama Christian upped its record to 27-11 with the wins and earned a spot in this week's state tournament.

Following are highlights of both games.

A.C.A. 5

ELBA 0

Alabama Christian pushed across five runs in the final three innings to open the best of three series with a 5-0 win over the Elba Lady Tigers.

The score was knotted at 0-0 through four innings as Elba's Stephanie Baxley and Alabama Christian's Paige Kennedy locked up in a pitching duel. Kennedy allowed only a bunt single by Elba's Greta Robinson through the opening four innings, while Baxley allowed only two hits and at one time retired eight Lady Eagles in a row.

Alabama Christian got on the scoreboard in the top of the fifth thanks to a key two-out single, then upped its lead 2-0 in the sixth as the Lady Eagles took advantage of a lead off walk and a two-out error.

The Lady Eagles continued their late-game surge in the seventh as they combined two hits with two errors to plate three runs and moved on top 5-0, and Kennedy continued her dominating performance on the rubber through the final frame as she fanned the final two Lady Tigers and put the wraps on the 5-0 win.

Greta Robinson was the only Elba batter to reach base in the loss as she reached on a bunt single and later walked. Stephanie Baxley was saddled with the loss as she allowed five runs, two earned runs, on six hits and two walks, while striking out five batters. Alabama Christian's Paige Kennedy got the win as she tossed a one-hitter, walked one batter and struck out 14.

ELBA 1

The Elba Lady Tigers saw their state tournament hopes come to an abrupt end Friday afternoon in a 2-1 loss to the Alabama Christian Academy Lady Eagles, in game two of the best of three sub-state finals.

Neither team managed a hit over the first three innings as Elba's Stephanie Baxley and Alabama Christian's Becca Thomas dominated on the rubber. However, the Lady Eagles bunched their only two hits of the game together in the fourth inning and took advantage of an Elba error to plate one run to grab a 1-0 lead.

A lead off single by Thomas was quickly wiped out when she was picked off first base by Lady Tiger catcher Haleigh Duncan, and Elba got out two one batter later on a lazy fly to left field. Please be sure to leave a name and address of who is making the contribution so that the proper recognition can be given by our soldiers in Iraq. Since our soldiers have been deployed in Iraq, so many bad things have been mentioned in the media, but I would like to stress that several good things have been accomplished since this all started. Below are some of the things that the soldiers have been involved in:

Over 4.5 million people have clean drinking water for the first time ever in Iraq.

Over 400,000 kids have up-to-date immunizations.

Over 1500 schools have been renovated and ridged of the weapons that were stored there so education can occur.

School attendance is up 80% from levels before the War.

Dear Editor,

Seventeen youths from Coffee County, Elba and Enterprise City School systems and one home-school student recently completed a weekend retreat at Camp ALAPLO in New Brockton as participants in the 8th annual CHINS UP program.

The three-day camp was conducted by highly trained and qualified Boy Scout leaders and supervised by our county and city DARE officers and other local adult leaders. It was a very physical, challenging and enjoyable experience with emphasis on leadership, trust, problem-solving, team work, communication, decision-making skills, and building self-confidence.

The camp was organized by the Coffee County Extension Office through Stan Windham, interim county coordinator, and his staff. Appreciation is extended to all those who made the event possible, including the parents of those who attended, the Boy Scouts of America and Camp ALAPLO personnel, our three school systems, the Elba and Enterprise Housing Authorities and those who made financial contributions.

A special thanks is also extended to DARE officers Cindy Dunaway, Adel Lee, Michael Adkinson and Kent Reynolds, additional chaplains Kathie Cuts, Jimmy Jackson and Steve Culver, and Dr. and Mrs. Michael McQueen, who prepared and delivered individual snack packets to the campers on two different days.

The success of this year's program can best be measured by Dauphin Junior High's Jacob Arrington who wrote, "It is the best program in the world."

Dear Editor:

Those who side with justice won't be fooled by liberal Judge Tracey McCooley's, seemingly drastic reduction in the ExxonMobil case. It's the classic, liberal judge's dodge to reduce a ridiculously large award and still have a ridiculously large award.

McCooley took the largest award of the year, $11.9 billion, and reduced it to $3.6 billion, still the largest award of the year by far. It is like setting a forest fire, then returning to throw a cup of water on it.

It's injustice on a grand scale. Nevertheless the lawsuit was nevermind that ExxonMobil insisted the suit to settle the open dispute, and liberal McCooley flipped it to allow defendant to become plaintiff.

Nevertheless that the Alabama Supreme Court already overturned an earlier $3.5 billion award in the case because McCooley erroneously admitted evidence. The plaintiff-friendly court still found for fraud, the only way punitive damages could be awarded.

Alabama newspapers denounced that decision editorially, calling it ludicrous and ridiculous. It's certainly those things and it proves that the deeper the pockets, the bigger the target.

Now, the Alabama Supreme Court must serve justice. That awful verdict should be ridiculed, mastic and ridden out of town on a rail. Alabama deserves compensation for damages, $60 million to $90 million, and no more.

The U.S. Supreme Court building bears the words, "Equal Justice Under the Law." That means fairness for haves as well as have-nots, or it isn't justice. News of this injustice is echoing worldwide, and it bodes ill for Alabama's ability to draw business and jobs.

Sincerely,
Lewis Fuller, Chairman

Editors:

Seniors are being bombarded with health care options, and it ain't all coming from the Federal Government.

I read that "seniors are the best shoppers in the world with the time and ability to take a look at all their options ... they have been shopping for groceries all their lives." As a senior, I reluctantly say, "Thanks for the vote of confidence," but shopping may be mentally challenging for seniors who take $500 worth of mind-altering drugs each month.

I also read that the government's health care options are too complex for some US law makers to understand.

Hopefully, seniors will first take a hard look at the possibility of fictitious promises which comes to them spread with honey.

Most seniors haven't forgotten about the rampant fraud in the stock market that "deceived the very elect."

Sincerely,
Vera Maddox-Crozier

Coffee County raises more than $200,000 for annual Relay for Life

by Linda Hodge, Editor

Coffee County conducted its annual Relay for Life event last Friday, May 14, on the campus of Enterprise-Ozark Community College (EOCC), and once again, the county's citizens showed their commitment to this cause.

After all the contributions were tabulated, Coffee County raised $212,000 to be donated to the American Cancer Society for cancer research. Although this was a little below the goal of $218,000, it was approximately the same amount of money raised last year but with less teams.

Corporate sponsorship reached an all-time high this year with $44,000 being donated to assist in finding a cure.

Relay officials said the people of the county should be commended because they are the ones who make it successful each and every year.

The event began early Friday morning with a cancer survivor's breakfast, and activities continued throughout the day.

The actual Relay began Friday evening with more than 200 cancer survivors making the first lap around the EOCC track. Following the cancer survivors, the participating teams each made a lap around the track together. The remainder of the evening found team members taking turns making laps around the track.

The emotional luminary ceremony at 9 p.m. remained a special moment for those in attendance as candles were lit honoring those currently fighting cancer and those who have overcome the disease, as well as, in memory of those who lost their battle to the illness.

Lighting of the luminaries was followed by a silent lap around the track.

The 2004 Coffee County Relay for Life ended at 2 a.m. Saturday morning. Scenes from the event can be found inside this edition of the paper.
